This Southern Italian meatball dish with potatoes and peas is a rustic one-pot meal simmered in white wine and chicken broth. A cozy, comforting recipe inspired by cucina povera.

Although I was born in Tuscany, Northern Italy, some of my fondest food memories come from the Southern side of the country – especially dishes like this comforting plate of polpette con patate e piselli, or meatballs with potatoes and peas. My Mama would make this humble one-pot meal often, simmering the tender meatballs in a light broth of white wine and chicken stock until the potatoes were soft and the peas just burst with sweetness. It's a perfect example of cucina povera – simple, rustic ingredients brought to life with love.

This dish fed many in our home, and I still make it the same way today. It's comforting, hearty, and perfect with a piece of crusty bread to soak up the flavorful broth.

Things to know about this Southern Italian Meatballs with potatoes and peas

- Cucina Povera Roots:

This dish is a perfect example of cucina povera, Italy's tradition of making delicious meals with simple, humble ingredients. No fancy sauces here – just pantry staples transformed into comfort food.

- No Tomatoes Needed:

While many Italian meatball recipes rely on tomato sauce, this one simmers in a light white wine and chicken broth, allowing the flavors of the meat, potatoes, and peas to shine.

- Great for Meal Prep:

This dish reheats beautifully and actually tastes even better the next day, making it ideal for leftovers or meal prepping ahead.

- Flexible Ingredients:

You can use beef, pork, or a mix for the meatballs. Frozen peas work just as well as fresh, and Yukon Gold or red potatoes hold their shape nicely during simmering.

- Serve it Simply:

Traditionally served as a main course, this dish pairs best with crusty bread and a glass of white wine. No pasta needed – the broth is the star.

- Family Favorite:

This meal has been passed down in many Southern Italian homes for generations. It's hearty, budget-friendly, and feeds a crowd with ease.

Southern Italian Potatoes, Peas & Meatballs

Southern Italian Potatoes, Peas & Meatballs is a comforting, rustic one-pot meal made with tender potatoes, sweet peas, and homemade Italian meatballs simmered together in a flavorful tomato sauce. This hearty family-style dish is simple, satisfying, and perfect for a Sunday dinner or any time you want a traditional Italian comfort meal.

- 1 lb. lean ground beef (85-15)
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 eggs slightly beaten
- 1/4 cup grated Pecorino or Parmesan cheese
- 3/4 cup Italian seasoned breadcrumbs
- 2 cloves garlic finely minced (finely minced)
- 1 Tbsp. onion powder
- 2 Tbsp chopped Italian parsley
- Salt & pepper to taste
- 2 Tbsp. Olive oil

- 1/2 cup dry white wine
- 2 cups low-sodium chicken stock
- 3 small potatoes (peeled & cubed)
- 1-2 cups green peas (fresh or frozen)
- 1/3 cup chopped Italian parsley
- Salt and pepper to taste

1. Prepare the meatballs: In a large bowl, combine the breadcrumbs with the milk, let sit until the milk is fully absorbed add in the eggs, grated cheese, breadcrumbs, minced garlic, onion powder chopped parsley, and a generous pinch of salt and black pepper. Mix until just combined, being careful not to overwork the meat. Roll the mixture into small meatballs, about the size of a walnut.
2. Brown the meatballs: In a wide, deep skillet or Dutch oven, heat the olive oil over medium heat. Add the meatballs in a single layer (you may need to work in batches) and brown them on all sides, turning gently. Once golden, transfer them to a plate and set aside.
3. Deglaze the pan: With the heat still on medium, pour the white wine into the pan, scraping up any browned bits from the bottom with a wooden spoon. Let the wine simmer for a minute or two to reduce slightly.
4. Simmer with potatoes: Return the browned meatballs to the pan and add the cubed potatoes. Pour in the chicken stock, making sure the meatballs and potatoes are partially submerged. Cover the pan and let everything simmer gently for about 15–20 minutes, or until the potatoes are tender and the meatballs are cooked through.
5. Add the peas: Stir in the peas (fresh or frozen) and cook for another 5–7 minutes, just until the peas are heated through and tender. Taste and adjust seasoning if needed. ENJOY!!!Ladle the meatballs, potatoes, and peas into shallow bowls with a bit of the broth. Serve warm with crusty bread to soak up the flavorful juices.

These chicken meatballs are the very best meatballs ever, the healthier version of everyone's favorite.

Ground chicken breast, seasoned with rich traditional Italian flavors, so good you'll want to make them often.

Think pasta and meatballs, meatball sandwiches or just a bowl of meatballs with sour dough bread to sop up the homemade marinara sauce.

Chicken meatballs can be used in many different ways and frozen for ready made meals for busy weeknight dinners, or unexpected company is coming.

It's not often you find a meal everyone will love, when you do it's a win-win.

While the Italian meatball may not rival in popularity in the same way as the American hamburger, it still has a big following across the nation. I know they're popular in my house

The Definition Of Meatballs

The definition of meatballs is ground meat that is shaped into a ball. In Italian meatballs they are made from beef or veal and either fried or baked before finishing the cooking process in marinara sauce. We had this meal twice a week when I was growing up, on Thursday and Sunday.

I still make the same meal for my family at least once a week using ground chicken. These chicken meatballs are a healthier version of the classic without losing any of the authentic Italian flavors. I made them even healthier by baking them in my Cuisinart air fryer

A few tips

Don't over mix the meat mix only until well blended, if your hand are damp it makes it easier to roll

Pre portion the meat before forming into meatballs

Don't overcook bake total cooking time is 30 minutes 10 minutes in the oven and 20 minutes in the marinara sauce

If you make these chicken meatballs please leave me a comment and don't forget to tag me on Instagram....That's my favorite part hearing from you !!! If you love meatballs try my Baked vegetarian zucchini meatballs for a delicious vegetarian option or the classic .Meatball Sunday sauce

This Baked Stuffed Eggplant Bolognese is the kind of rustic Italian dish that turns simple ingredients into something truly special. Tender eggplant halves are roasted, gently hollowed, and filled with a rich, slow-simmered Bolognese sauce. They're topped with creamy béchamel and plenty of shredded mozzarella, then baked until bubbling and beautifully golden.

The combination of tender eggplant, savory Bolognese, creamy béchamel, and melted cheese makes every bite incredibly satisfying. It's a wonderful dish for Sunday dinner, a family gathering, or any night when you want something comforting and homemade.

Things to know about this baked stuffed eggplant Bolognese recipe

Choose the right eggplant: Look for firm, glossy eggplants with minimal bruising. The larger the eggplant, the more room you'll have for stuffing—but make sure it's not overly seedy inside. After roasting, scoop out just enough flesh to create a space for the filling while still keeping the structure intact. You can chop up the scooped-out flesh and stir it into the Bolognese if you like—no waste here!

Make-ahead friendly: This is a great recipe to prep in stages. You can roast the eggplant, cook the Bolognese, and even make the béchamel a day ahead. When you're ready to serve, just assemble, bake, and dinner's done. Leftovers reheat beautifully, too.

Use what you have: This recipe is flexible. If you don't have ground pork, all beef works fine. No red wine? Skip it or splash in a little broth. You could also make it vegetarian by swapping in a hearty lentil ragu or mushroom sauce—still delicious, still cozy.

Don't skimp on the béchamel: The creamy béchamel brings the whole dish together, adding richness and balance to the savory meat sauce. I like to sprinkle in a little Parmesan to give it an extra layer of flavor, but it's totally optional.

Serving ideas: Serve these eggplant boats with a crisp salad or warm garlic bread to round out the meal. They're hearty enough to be the star of the show, but they also work well as a side if you're doing a bigger Italian spread.

This baked stuffed Eggplant Bolognese, is everything I love in a comforting Italian-inspired dish—rich, cheesy, satisfying, and layered with flavor. It's the kind of meal that brings everyone to the table and gets them asking for seconds. Whether you're making it for Sunday dinner or a cozy weeknight treat, it's a dish that never disappoints.

Baked Stuffed eggplant Bolognese

Tender roasted eggplant halves filled with rich Bolognese sauce, creamy béchamel, and mozzarella, then baked until bubbly and golden.

For the Eggplant:

- 2 large eggplants (halved lengthwise)
- 2 Tbsp. Olive oil
- 2 Teaspoon Paprika
- Salt & pepper

For the Bolognese (about 2 cups):

- 2 tbsp olive oil
- 1 small onion (finely chopped)
- 1 carrot (finely chopped)

- 1 celery stalk (finely chopped)
- 2 garlic cloves (minced)
- 1/2 lb. ground beef
- 1/2 lb. ground pork (or all beef)
- 2 Tbsp tomato paste
- 2 cups. crushed tomatoes
- ½ cup red wine (optional)
- Salt & pepper (to taste)
- 1 tsp dried oregano or Italian seasoning
- Fresh basil (optional)

For the Béchamel:

- 2 tbsp butter
- 2 tbsp all-purpose flour
- 1½ cups milk (warmed)
- Pinch of nutmeg
- Salt & pepper (to taste)
- 2 tbsp grated Parmesan (optional)

Topping:

- 1 cup shredded mozzarella
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan

Roast the Eggplant:

1. Preheat oven to 400°F (200°C).
2. Score the eggplant flesh in a crisscross pattern. Drizzle with olive oil, season with paprika, salt and pepper.
3. Place on a baking sheet. Roast for 25–30 minutes, until tender.

4. Once cooled slightly, scoop out some of the flesh to create a “boat,” leaving about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of eggplant.

Make the Bolognese:

1. In a large skillet, heat olive oil over medium heat. Add onion, carrot, celery, and cook until soft (6–8 minutes).
2. Add garlic, then the ground meats. Cook until browned.
3. Stir in tomato paste; cook 1–2 minutes. Deglaze with wine (if using).
4. Add crushed tomatoes, seasoning, and let simmer for 25–30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Adjust seasoning.

Make the Béchamel:

1. Melt butter in a saucepan. Stir in flour to form a roux; cook 1–2 minutes.
2. Gradually whisk in warm milk until smooth.
3. Simmer gently until thickened, 4–5 minutes. Season with salt, pepper, nutmeg, and Parmesan.

Assemble & Bake:

1. Lower oven to 375°F (190°C).
2. Place roasted eggplant halves in a baking dish.
3. Fill each with warm Bolognese sauce.
4. Spoon béchamel generously over the top.
5. Sprinkle mozzarella and extra Parmesan over each.
6. Bake for 20–25 minutes, until bubbly and golden.
7. Optional: Broil for 2–3 minutes at the end for extra browning

If there's one kind of dinner I never get tired of, it's the kind that all comes together in one pan—no fuss, no oven, just hearty, delicious flavors on the stovetop. This Stovetop Sausage, Potatoes, Peppers & Cheese is exactly that kind of meal. It's easy, filling, and packed with flavor from start to finish.

We start with a simple base of golden sautéed onions and garlic, then layer in thin-sliced potatoes and colorful bell peppers. A splash of white wine adds depth and brightness, while the sausage brings all that savory goodness you'd expect. And just when everything's perfectly tender and browned, we finish it off with a blanket of melty cheese. It's comfort food without being heavy, and every bite tastes like you spent hours on it (spoiler: you didn't).

This is a great weeknight go-to, but it's also one of those dishes that feels special enough to serve to friends with a glass of wine and a loaf of crusty bread. I love how customizable it is, too—you can go spicy, swap in different cheeses, or add fresh herbs from the garden. However you spin it, this skillet supper is a keeper.

Things to know about this This Stovetop Sausage, Potatoes, Peppers & Cheese recipe

Cut the potatoes into small chunks: Instead of slicing, dicing the potatoes into small, evenly-sized chunks helps them cook through quickly while getting golden and crisp on the outside. Yukon golds are perfect for this—they hold their shape and have a buttery texture that works beautifully in the skillet.

Use the wine you'd drink: A dry white wine like Pinot Grigio or Sauvignon Blanc works best in this recipe, adding just the right amount of acidity to balance the richness of the sausage and cheese. Don't have wine? A splash of chicken broth works in a pinch.

Customize it your way: This recipe is very forgiving. Swap the mozzarella for provolone, cheddar, or even a little smoked gouda for something different. You can use hot Italian sausage if you want some heat, or go with chicken sausage for a lighter take. Want to sneak in more veggies? Zucchini or spinach would work well stirred in at the end.

Great for leftovers: This dish reheats well the next day—just warm it in a skillet over low heat or pop it in the microwave. It makes a satisfying lunch or even a hearty breakfast topped with a fried egg.

This stovetop sausage and potato skillet is one of those feel-good meals you'll want to come back to again and again. Easy, flavorful, and always a crowd-pleaser!

Grilled leg of lamb always feels like a celebration meal to me, especially when it's seasoned with garlic , rosemary, parsley and butter. I make little slits all over the boneless lamb leg and fill them with the garlic and herb butter. Then I spread the same butter all over the lamb, then I let the lamb marinate overnight, before grilling. Grilling is the secret that brings out the lambs natural sweetness while taming it's unique flavor.

This recipe tells you how to prep, season and grill the lamb to tender perfection. Giving you that beautiful pink medium rare center and a flavorful crisp crust that will impress your guest and have them talking about what a great chef you are.

It's a simple recipe that comes together quickly, feels special and perfect for spring.

This to know about this Grilled boneless leg of lamb recipe

A boneless leg of lamb is a cut of meat from the top of the animals rear leg. It's one of the richest and most flavorful cuts of lamb, but it requires a low and slow cooking process to become tender. A boneless leg of lamb allows for more flexibility in cooking methods, such as grilling and roasting. It also makes it easier to carve and serve the meat. A boneless leg of lamb roast, around 3-5 pounds, is also smaller than a bone-in leg of lamb. However, this recipe works for both bone-in or boneless, so if you go with the bone-in option make sure to extend the cooking time. Lamb, when cooked correctly to an internal temperature of 135 degrees is a gamechanger. Your family and friends will be converted to lamb lovers after you make this grilled boneless leg of lamb recipe for them.

Things to know about this Italian boneless leg of lamb roast

When it comes to an Italian -style boneless leg of lamb roast, its's all about simplicity, quality ingredients and letting the flavor of the lamb be the star. This boneless cut of lamb is ideal for home cooks new to making lamb, it cooks evenly, carves easily and with the added potatoes and carrots it's a complete meal !!

If your boneless leg of lamb comes netted or tied, you can roast it as is. The netting helps it hold it's shape, and cook more evenly. If you prefer to season the inside of the meat, remove the netting rub the garlic herb mixture all over and re-tie it with butchers twine. I didn't tie mine up this time and it still came out beautifully, but next time I would – just to keep everything a bit neater and hold the shape better while it roast.

The crispy golden crust on the outside gives way to tender juicy meat inside, making every bite irresistible.

Choosing the lamb for this rosemary garlic seared lambchops recipe

For the best results, opt for high -quality lambchops. Rib chops are the most tender and have a delicate, mild flavor, while loin chops are slightly meatier with a robust taste. If you prefer an even richer flavor shoulder chops can be a great alternative, though they require a longer cooking time to become tender.

When possible, choose grass-fed lamb for a more pronounced depth of flavor and superior texture. Look for chops that have a vibrant red color with some marbling, as the fat contributes to the juiciness and taste.

These rosemary garlic seared lamb chops are easy to make and delicious, they deliver a restaurant -quality dish right at home. The combination of crispy seared edges, fragrant herbs, and a buttery sauce makes this dish a guaranteed crowd-pleaser. Perfect for an elegant dinner or quick weeknight meal, they're bound to impress.

- 1.5- 2 lbs. of lamb chops
- 2 Tbsp. olive oil
- 1 Tbsp. minced garlic
- 1 Tbsp. fresh rosemary finely chopped

- Salt and pepper to taste

FOR THE PANSAUCE

- 2 Tbsp. butter
 - 1 Tbsp. finely minced garlic
 - 1 Tbsp. finely chopped rosemary
 - 1 Tbsp. corn starch
 - 1/2 cup white wine
 - Juice from 1 lemon
 - 1 lemon sliced
 - 1 cup chicken stock
 - 1 Tbsp. chopped Italian parsley
1. Remove the lambchops from the refrigerator at least 20 minutes before cooking. Pat them dry then season with the rosemary, garlic salt and pepper. Massage the seasonings into the chops on both sides.
 2. In a heavy skillet or cast-iron pan heat the oil over medium high heat until shimmering.
 3. Add the lambchops to the hot pan and sear for 3-4 minutes on one side until a deep golden crust forms. Flip and sear the other side for another 3 minutes. Then remove and set aside.
 4. In the same pan add the butter, garlic and rosemary cook until soft and translucent . Add the corn starch and cook for 1 minute longer
 5. Deglaze the pan with the wine waiting until it is absorbed before adding the chicken stock and lemon juice and lemon slices. Simmer until sauce is beginning to thicken (3-5 minutes). Then remove the lemon slices.
 6. Return the lambchops back to the pan to heat through, basting the chops with the sauce. Finish with the Italian parsley .

- 1 1/2 -2 lbs. pork tenderloin
- 2 Tbsp. olive oil
- 1 Tbsp; butter
- 2 Tbsp. Dijon mustard
- 1 sheet puff pastry
- Mushroom filling
- 8 oz. cremini or button finely chopped

- 1 minced Shallot
- 1 Tbsp. minced garlic
- 1/2 cup breadcrumbs
- 1/4 cup grated parmesan cheese
- 1 egg + 1 egg yolk for the egg wash
- 2 Tbsp. chopped Italian parsley
- Salt and pepper to taste

1. Preheat your oven to 400- degrees
2. Clean the pork removing the silver skin – It's that shiny white-silver membrane running along one side of the tenderloin with a sharp knife
3. Then butterfly the tenderloin slice it length wise almost all way through- think open book.
4. Pound it with a meat mallet or rolling pin until it's an even thickness, about 1/2 inch thick. salt and pepper to taste.
5. Make the filling
6. In a saute pan over medium high heat in the olive oil and butter saute the shallots and garlic until soft and translucent
7. Add the mushrooms cook until brown and all the liquid is absorbed.
8. In a bowl slightly beat the egg, add in the breadcrumbs, parmesan cheese, parsley and the cooked mushroom mixture. Mix to combine
9. Spread the stuffing down the center of the pork tenderloin
10. Carefully roll it up jelly roll style. Then tightly wrap it in plastic wrap and chill for at least 30 minutes.
11. Then unwrap and spread with the mustard and roast in a preheated 400- degree oven for 10 minutes. Set aside and cool slightly just enough time to handle without burning your hands, then spread with the mustard
12. On a lightly floured broad roll out the puff pastry and place the pork roll in the center. Wrap the pastry around it. tucking in the edges.

13. Place it seam-side down on a parchment lined baking sheet
14. Brush the top with a slightly beaten egg yolk. Score the top. Bake in a preheated oven for 25-30 minutes or until the puff pastry is golden brown.
15. Let rest for 10 minutes before slicing.

Sear the pork before wrapping it in puff pastry and allow it to cool slightly first. This helps develop flavor while preventing the pastry from becoming soggy.
